THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L. Jr.

PUT THE SHOE ON IF IT FITS

He's got the whitest hair and ruddiest face of anyone in town. More than anyone else in the community, he's got the interests of the City of Nevada at heart, and has had for so long no one can remember when he started devoting a great part of his time and unusual energy to helping the town. He's got a humorous manner of talking and a memory that has file-cataloged everything of importance that's happened here for many decades back. He holds a public office and gives it a lot more work that the salary warrants, but that isn't the big thing with him. He wears his hat at a jaunty angle, and

He's got a nose for news. He's not under-nourished and he's always smiling. He slicks his hair back and owns the best man's wardrobe extant in town now, strictly pre-war. Wherever something's happening you'll find him, if he hasn't already gone on to something else. His middle initial is C. a dark secret, and he holds a high post with a veteran's organization. He recently fulfilled an enjoyable mission to his organization's convention in Long Beach. Need I say any more?

He's a big guy with curly hair and a responsible job in the local branch of a corporation. He wears khakis and he holds two important non-paying local ofices, and until Monday held a third. He's one of the most popular men in town, for the good reason that the town appreciates men who take a cheerful, constructive, attitude and are willing to spend their own time for the benefit of others. I'm glad he ruined my bumper the other day because he put it back better than it was when I bought my car. His initials are—you guessed it!

She has silky brown hair, the softest voice in town and four children, count them, although she graduated from college only six years ago. She's vacationing here with her mother, and when she takes the whole family for a ride, you can see why se needs a station wagon, and has a brand new one at that. Her name is——— ask any of her four children, they know.

He's about 22, has curly red hair, and he knows at least as much about his trade as any young fellow I've ever met. He's extremely well-connected and has, in a short time, got off to a very sound start in business here. His work is not work to him—it's an art and a profession and a vocation and avocation rolled into one. His name is——— me tell you a competitor's name—I should say not!

She's along about middle age, or approaching it, and she's the easiest person to talk to you ever met. She runs a restaurant not on Broad Street, and a very good restaurant it is. She has countless friends in town and deserves them all. Her name is ——— that's right. I had iced tea the last time I stopped in her place.

He's a little guy and still a Whiskerino, after all these days. The remarkable thing about him is his stamina. You see him everywhere you go. He's either happily in there, or coming out or going in, or making up his mind whether or not to go in or come out. He's not exactly a dude, nor even a pillar of propriety but he is definitely part of the Nevada City scene. His name is——— well, here I am at the end of the column.

PHEASANT STUDY

Ben Glading, game conservation biologist, investigating the high mortality of our pheasants, especially as it pertains to the present controversy "poison vs. the mowing machine" was quoted today as saying, "in studies conducted by Howard Twining of the Bureau of Game Conservation under the auspices of Ptiiman-Robertson funds, the mowing of alfalfa looms as probably the chief hazard of pheasants."

Twining's findings show that in the Chico area a pheasant nest is destroyed for almost every acre of alfalfa cut. The first cutting in April or May is particularly destructive of nests, and many hens are killed or maimed. The third cutting in July is hazardous to pheasant chicks.

The Pittman-Robertson pheasant study is also running checks on the effect of blackbird poisoning to the pheasant population. Losses from this cause are negligible and may be reduced to zero if precautions recommended by the California State Department of Agriculture are observed.

Lower your speed at night so that you can stop within the range of your head lights, urges Bert Stewart, public safety director of National Automobile Club. The public schools of Nevada County got $208.959 in apportionment from the state treasury for the 1945-46 school year. California taxpayers association said today, making public the second section of its study of school district financing in California. In addition to the state apportionment, the property tax levy for the school districts in the county was $236,644 for 1945-46.

Elementary school districts in the county got $145,759 out of the state treasury and high school districts received $63,200.

Proposition 3 on the November ballot would fix state support of the public schools at $120 per pupil in average daily attendance. The present base is $80 per pupil for the elementary schools and $90 for the secondary schools.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President--Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Vital Economy

Hearing that it would not be necessary for anybody to pay any federal taxes for a period of 12 months would have been good news to a lot of people any year for two decades before World War II. It would have occupied acres of front-page space in metropolitan papers, utilized hours of radio time and consumed gallons of red ink. It might have started a buying boom.

The money people used to put out in federal taxes was staggering (then) although the amount seems small in contrast to what they have been paying lately and probably will keep paying for several years. Just the same, pre-war taxes were big money and, even now, would be worth saving. That's exactly the point I want to make in this department today: It can be saved.

Over Twice Enough

Civilian employees of the United States government today number approximately 2,800,000 when 1,250,000 would be plenty. Even this low figure is about twice what we had six months after World War I. In short, government has 1,550,000 unnecessary hirelings now—more people than live in The Bronx, in Los Angeles or in St. Louis plus all of its suburbs. It is humiliating to think about.

All of this enormous host of people are eating out of the public breadbasket. They are not to be thought about as if they had private wealth and had retired to pursue some impractical hobby. Such people as that do, at least, distribute wealth previously put away. The people I am talking about are deadweight on the rest of us. They subsist on federal tax revenue.

Five Million Grand

Since their average annual income is about $2,400 each, they are costing the taxpayers of the United States every year the staggering sum of $3,720,000,000 in salaries alone. Everybody who hires salaried people knows well that salaries are not all the expense they incur. They all have to be provided more or less space, lighted, heated and equipped.

Add to these items such matters as traveling expenses, telephone calls and incidentals and the grand annual expense, as a result of having these people employed, will swell to five billion dollars at least. If such people could be lifted off the public's neck the money could be saved and the public would surely feel the relief.

Plus Social Gains

Such shortening of payrolls would be completely justified by savings alone but there are plenty of other benefits. (1) It would help to balance the federal budget, and if it is not balanced the country will eventually go broke. (2) It would help curb the trend toward bureaucracy, toward centralization of power and toward government by whim instead of deliberate government by law.

(3) Not the least of blessings to follow laying off these people would be releasing more than one and a half million persons for productive work, letting them create something instead of living off the efforts of others. (4) Finally, it would increase the hope of saving for future generations the finest civilization the world has ever known. I submit unto you it ought to be done.

You'll dial calls all the way across the country

Some day, you will be able to complete a call to New York—or anywhere else in the country—almost as swiftly as a local call. For you will dial the number you want, and your call will be automatically routed across the country. Preliminary work on a nation-wide dialing system is already under way.

Uncannily accurate, switching equipment like this will do the job. Each section of the country will have a special three-digit code which you will simply dial before you dial the number you want. Between some neighboring cities here on the Coast long distance dialing will be a fact within the next few years.

This is only one of many long distance and local telephone projects included in our five-year four hundred million dollar expansion program. For it is our purpose to expand and improve service in every way we can . . . to make the telephone more useful and valuable to everyone.

An ever-improving telephone service at the least cost consistent with good wages and working conditions for our employees and a reasonable return to the thousands of people who have invested in the business.

VA LAWYER "WOMAN OF THE YEAR"

Col. Mary Agnes Brown, who recently rejoined the Veterans Administration's legal staff after a wartime leave of absence, has been voted Washington's "Woman of the Year" by the Soroptimist Club, a business and professional women's organization. Colonel Brown, shown holding a medal that was part of the award, served on General MacArthur's staff during the Philippine campaign as officer-in-charge of all WACs in that theater.

NEVADA CITY

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
—AND—
FIFTY YEARS AGO

NEVADA CITY 75 YEARS AGO

A brass and string band was organized to furnish music for political meetings, exercises, balls and parties. The brass band was under the leadership of Phil Goyne and the string band was directed by M. M. Blum.

The Union Republican Convention met at the theatre with Judge Niles secretary of the County Central Committee calling the convention to order. Jonathan Clark was elected president, Secretaries were Geo. W. Dixon and A. H. Parker. H. Harrington were elected sergeant at arms. The following men were nominated or various offices: For county judge, Judge John Caldwell, for Senator, Chas. Kent, for sheriff, Joseph Perrin of Grass Valley, for recorder, J. M. Walling, for treasurer, A. Goldsmith, for district attorney, M. S. Deal, for county clerk, T. C. Plunkett of Truckee.

A sore headed candidate of the Republican convention offered the following proposition to anyone:—$1000 that Newton Booth would carry this county. $200 on each candidate nominated by the Republicans.

Following the Republican convention a number of Republicans hired the Nevada Brass Band and serenaded Hon. A. A. Sargent, Republican nominee for congress from this district.

George R. Crawford bought 5000 feet of lumber at Emigrant Gap at $65 per thousand, to be paid if Haight was elected. The current rate at that place was $25 per thousand

In accordance with a vote of the district, the school trustees sold the lot and school buildings on Nevada Street to the Episcopal Church Society. The new church building was to be commenced soon.

NEVADA CITY 50 YEARS AGO

The following persons of this city were baptized and received into full membership of the Methodist Church Miss Effie Waite, Miss Bertha Waite, Miss Susie Brasfield, Mrs. C. Waite, Mrs. Beatrice Coder, Mr. W. H. Norton, Mr. Asa Coder.

The city was shocked and sadden by the murder of Sheriff Dave Douglass while in pursuit of the highway man who had been molesting travelers on the San Juan, Bloomfield and Washington roads for two weeks. On a report from John Cunya, who had seen the bandit on the trail through the old Hirshman diggings, Douglass with Under Sheriff Pascoe the latter's brother and Cunya set out on a man hunt but were unsuccessful. The following morning early Sunday, Sheriff Douglass with his dog went out alone to get his man. At four o'clock in the afternoon the dog returned to town alone and so stirred the anxiety of the people that a search party was formed. They found Douglass' body lying in the brush near the juntion of the Bloomfield, Blue Tent roads with two bullets through the back. Lying a few feet distant was the body of the bandit, his head resting on his coat and a rifle in his hand. He was identified by M. L. Marsh as W. L. Davidson a wood cutter employed by the Marsh saw mill since May. It was assumed that Dauglass had come upon the man sleeping, had tried to take him, the man had resisted and reached for his rile and Douglass had shot him. Immediately a search wes begun for an accomplice responsible for the two shots in Douglass' back.

CONVENTION TURNS INTO GIANT HOUSING PROJECT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18—The biggest housing job undertaken by any American city thus far this year was successfully completed in San Francisco during the recent national convention of the American Medical Association.

The San Francisco convention and tourist bureau reported this week that for the convention it contracted for 5000 rooms housing epproximately 10,000 persons, plus 500 rooms housing 15,000 in the east bay and 1400 beds in military dormitories..

SPARE THE OLD SPARE

Spare tires often are those which already have seen considerable service and are occupying their present position only as substitutes when one of the good tires meets misfortune, declares L. G. Evans, general manager of National Automobile Club. Yet, it frequently hapens that when the spare is called upon to fill in, its tenure on the wheel is much longer than the owner anticipated. The spare, thus used, may be good for a few hundred miles. It is better to take these out in small installments than all at one time. When the good tire is fixed put it back without delay. It spares the old spare.

LOOK BEFORE BACKING

Be sure the way is clear before you start to back your car, cautions Bert Stewart public safety director of National Automobile Club. The responsibility for backing safely rests entirely upon the driver.

WASHINGTON NOTES

By Congressman Clair Engle

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1—Veterans Insurance—The congress has passed and sent down to the president the bill modifying the National Service Life Insurance Act, which liberalizes the provisions for servicemens insurance. The three principal features of the bill are—lump sum payments broadening of beneficiary class;; convertibility to equivalent of usual commercial policies. The purpose of the amendments is to encourage servicemen to retain their low rate government insurance. Copies of the law are being mailed to all county officers and leaders of veterans organizations. All servicemen should be advised to promptly take advantage of the new provisions.

Gold Relief Stalled—The bill to provide reimbursement to gold miners for losses suffered under the gold closing order was unanimously recommended for favorable action by the subcommittee which held the hearing on the bill. This week the subcommittee reported to the full committee and the bill was taken under consideration by the full committee. After some discussion of the matter the committee decided not to take action immediately because of the large federal liability involved. The committee hearings have necessarily been short inasmuch as the house has been going into session at 10 o'clock. It will be impossible to get a further committee hearing on the subject prior to the time the house recesses, which will mean that the bill will have to go over until the next session of congress.

Airport Plan—CAA hopes to complete its survey or a detailed national airport plan by December and to have its program for 1947 construction ready before the New Year aarrives. Delay in beginning construction under the federal airport act, which became law last May, comes through the fact that actual appropriations did not become available until the first week in July.

Steps are now beginning toward setting up the necessary organization establishing field offices, and drafting rules, regulations and procedures under which the airport program will proceed.

A public hearing will be called later on the rules and regulations, following which the final draft will be shaped up.

Meanwhile, CAA is urging local groups to speed their basic plans for construction and get them to CAA within the next two months.

Road Building Program—FSA post war road building program has run into difficulties. Principal trouble is increased prices and shortage of materials.

Bureau of Roads officials estimate that contractors bids are now up 50 cent cent of what they were in 1940. Result is that many states are refusing to go ahead on prospects until better prices are forthcoming.

Chief among the supply worries is the shortage of steel for bridges and concrete reinforcements and of wood for concrete forms. There has been trouble getting machinery and the newest development is a shortage of cement.

ASSORTED GASES

In addition to the millions of cubic feet of illuminating gas consumed annually at the Westinghouse Lamy Division for heating and glass working operations, other gases such as hydrogen oxygen, nitrogen, argon and neon, are aslo needed for lamp manufacture. Hydrogen and oxygen are made by electrical decomposition of water while the other gases are obtained by distillation of liquid air.

The port of Stockton in San Joaquin county officially opened in February 1943.

The nine counties constituting the San Francisco bay region cover nearly 7000 square miles.

COBWEBS FOR PROTECTION

Forest Fire Warning Issued To Motorists

Motorists are asked by the California State Automobile Association to prevent forest fires by being extremely careful about throwing away their cigar and cigaret butts, pipe ashes and other burning material when driving in the country.

Federal and California forest service officials are frankly worried over forest fire possibilities from now until the rainy season because of the great increase in automobile vacationing the association said. Floods of tourists into vital watershed areas are greatly increasing fire hazards, since forest service records show that 9 out of 10 forest fires are man made.

The automobile association pointed out that it is a violation of California law to throw any burning material from a moving automobile. Many disastrous fires have started in dry grass along the highways. The following precautions were urged upon motorists:

Don't throw cigarets, cigars, pipe ashes or matches from your automobile, even though you're sure they're extinguished. Use the ash tray.

When you blow out a match hold it until it's cold, and then pinch it to make sure.

Don't build a campfire without a required permit. Never leave a campfire unattended. When you leave camp ,drown your fire, stir it and drown it again.

AIRPORT USES NEW LIGHTING

Vertical walls of light shooting skyward from the lateral edges of the runway will provide an "aisle of light" for pilots landing aircraft during soupy weather at Idlewild Municipal airport, New York City's gigantic new landing field. This innovation developed by engineers of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation will be one of several landing aids designed to make Idlewild an all weather haven for pilots of transcontinental and world flying aircraft.

HOUSING NOTE

Anthony Moliskey, Klamath, Cal., veteran formerly with the 334th Engineers, applied to the War Assets Administration here for the fuselage of a B-29 plane "for a house." WAA officials said none has yet been declared as surplus to WAA in this region and none is now available.

FIND TROUBLE FIRST

Before inserting a new fuse as a substitute for one that has burned out, it is declared to be an excellent idea by the National Automobile Club to discover the reason for the demise of the first one. Allowing the trouble to remain will mean that the new fuse will go the way of the first. Continued efforts to get results without first finding the cause of the trouble may result in damage to the eletrical system.

BIRTH

McCann—In Nevada City, Nevada County, July 24, 1946 to Mr. and Mrs. Lowell R. McCann of Camptonville, a daughter.

The town of Lakeport, Lake county seat, was incorporated May 7, 1888.

GLOOM GETS ASSIST

A batter in baseball has virtually "two strikes" against him on dark days, explains the Westinghouse Lamp Division because the eye "takes pictures" more slowly when the amount of light is decreased. Like the camera, the eye records images upside down but the human mind unscrambles that by making images apear as they are.

Uncle Sam Says

The wise money is on Sureshot, friend. You won't find him in this race or in any race. And yet Sureshot runs every moment of your life. He pays off $4 for every $3 at all of my windows in banks and at the Treasury Department. All you have to do is to keep your money on Sureshot and you don't care if he doesn't come in for 10 years. This is one bet which your Uncle Sam can guarantee as a winner. You're one American I don't have to tell that Sureshot has another more familiar name: United States Savings Bonds.

Uncle Sam Says

Supposing you and your neighbor met at the grocer's and actually did and said the things you see going on in this scene. You probably would say "Quit your kidding, Uncle Sam. They must be two other fellows, not me and Tom." Actually, friend, there are not enough consumer's goods for the dollars Americans own. There is more need now than ever before for you to save every dollar possible from the buying market. Buy only what you really need. Put every extra dollar into United States Savings Bonds.

ZIEGFELD FOLLIES COMING TO LOCAL SCREEN

Ziegfeld Follies, coming to the Nevada Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings, is a magnificent screen spectacle without a story just as the original was and is in the big theatre New York.

The nearest to a connecting thread among the many stupendous shows rolled into one great show, is William Powell reviewing in heaven his long, unparalelled success, recalling them one by one from the flaming limbo of the past.

One feature is Lucille Ball serving as a ballet master, another stars Esther Williams and Kenneth Wynn doing a telephone skit in a water ballet, and in a third, James Melton and Marion Bell sing a duet from La Traviata. Fred Astaire and Lucille Bremer appear in two numbers.

Where the name, address, or other information is omitted, it is unknown, not having been shown in the report of the holder.

A notice and return showing all property presumed to be abandoned in said County, including property of an amount less than $50, has been or will be posted on or before August 1, 1946, at the County Court House in said County.
